Addiction Studies Graduate Certificate Substantive Statement of Need

With parity and healthcare reform bringing substance abuse treatment into the realm of general medical care, one priority is for treatment agencies to develop partnerships with medical organizations. In the years to come, hospitals, doctor's offices, and, in particular, Federally Qualified Health Centers will be the entrees to reaching new populations in the specialty care system. Specifically, it means new standards, additional education, and master level degrees for addiction professionals.

ADST is requesting approval for online delivery of the Addiction Studies Graduate Certificate. The Graduate Certificate includes 27 credits of coursework that covers part of the required 45 credits of addiction related topic areas required by the state of Washington Department of Health for certification as a Chemical Dependency Professional. Students who complete this certificate with the intention of obtaining certification as a Chemical Dependency Professional will have ADST faculty/staff available to evaluate previous coursework on their transcripts to determine if their undergraduate or graduate degree includes 18 credits of coursework that would qualify for the additional credits required by the state for certification.

Students with an undergraduate or graduate degree, a minor or other certificate, in a social service, social work, or other counseling related field would generally have completed the additional credits/competencies required as part of their program. Current EWU graduate students would be able to take this certificate program concurrently with their graduate program.

To accommodate students who are employed, courses are taught either Online, in the evening, or in a weekend format. Once all course work has been moved to the online format, students who live in rural areas will be able to take this certificate program fully online in order to obtain the necessary educational requirements for state certification. Addiction Studies faculty and staff are available for personal academic advising for prospective and/or current student needs.

A practicum option is provided for students but is not required for the certificate.

Optional Practicum:
ADST 595 Practicum I (2cr)
ADST 695 Practicum II (2cr)

Students who are not currently working in a treatment agency may benefit from the practicum experience. Practicum hours may count toward state certification required hours.

Student Learning Outcomes:
The addiction studies certificate program provides competency based education to degreed professionals and students preparing to work in the field of addiction treatment or other community based practice settings. Students who complete this program will:

- Obtain the competency based knowledge and skills required for working in addiction treatment.
- Understand the underlying causes of addictions approaches to intervention, including assessment, treatment, relapse prevention, case management and self-help.
- Recognize the potential for substance use disorders to mimic a variety of medical and mental health conditions and the potential for medical and mental health conditions to co-exist with addiction and substance abuse.
- Describe the behavioral, psychological, physical health, and social effects of psychoactive substances on the person using and significant others.
- Recognize the social, political, economic, and cultural context within which addiction and substance abuse exist, including risk and resiliency factors that characterize individuals and groups in their living environments.

Admission Requirements:
All previous coursework will be evaluated to determine if prerequisite courses may be necessary in order to fulfill requirements necessary for Chemical Dependency Professional certification.

Prerequisite: 2 credits of Counseling HIV/Aids and Selected Pathogens required. These credits will count toward state certification for chemical dependency.

Program Requirements:

1. Meet Graduate Studies admission requirements: http://www.ewu.edu/Grad/Application-Procedures.xml
2. Meet with ADST director/advisor to discuss program requirements.
3. Bring one copy of transcripts for all college work completed to meeting with director/advisor.
