

BACKGROUND

The Washington Student Achievement Council (WSAC) is a cabinet-level state agency. WSAC's mission is to increase educational opportunities and attainment in Washington. For more information on WSAC, please visit our website: www.wsac.wa.gov.

One of WSAC's responsibilities is to administer and oversee the Washington College Grant (WCG) program. In 2020, the Legislature expanded WCG to include eligible individuals participating in state-registered apprenticeship programs under chapter 49.04 RCW. The expansion has been referred to as Washington College Grant for Apprenticeship (WCG-A).

WSAC has initiated a campaign to refer to Washington College Grant as "WA Grant" to communicate more inclusivity of career training programs.

The primary purpose of the WA Grant for Apprenticeship (WG-A) program is to measurably increase the number of recent high school graduates and adults that can attain a higher education credential by enrolling in a registered apprenticeship program while receiving state financial aid. Eligible apprentices can use WG-A to help cover the costs of tuition and fees, program supplies and equipment, and other costs that facilitate educational endeavors.

WG-A is only available to apprentices of Sponsors who have completed the application process to participate in WG-A. To apply to participate in WG-A, Sponsors must first be registered with and approved by the Department of Labor & Industries (L&I) Washington State Apprenticeship & Training Council (WSATC) and cannot be in probationary status.

WSAC has partnered with ANEW as a third-party servicer to support Sponsors to meet administrative capability requirements for the WG-A program. All required application documents must initially be submitted to ANEW for a first review to ensure application completeness. ANEW will submit the completed application to WSAC for the review of application materials for final determination of approval to participate.

In general, Sponsors will also need to agree to support Administrative Capability requirements for WG-A, which includes, but are not limited to:

- Ensuring implementation of practices relating to identity theft protection.
- Reporting suspected fraud.
- Resolving conflicting information in apprentice applications and records.
- Reporting apprentice program progression.
- Ensuring appropriate record keeping and retention practices meet standards.
- Ensuring contingency plans are in place.
- Ensuring secure data access protocols are utilized and reporting security breaches.
- Reporting any material changes to WSAC within 30 days.

PROCESS OVERVIEW

There are three (3) steps that must be completed for a Sponsor to be approved to participate in WG-A.

- 1. Completion of Sponsor Application to Participate using a Third-Party Servicer and initial submission to ANEW. Once WSAC receives the completed application from ANEW, Sponsor should anticipate WSAC will be:
  - Seeking responses to follow-up questions regarding application and supporting documents
  - Requesting additional or clarifying information from Sponsor
  - Consulting the Department of Labor & Industries (L&I)
  - Referring to Program Standards listed on the Department of Labor & Industries (L&I) Apprenticeship Registration & Tracking System (ARTS) website.
- WSAC will seek public comment on application per WAC 250-21-121. Once WSAC has determined that a Sponsor meets initial requirements to participate in WG-A, WSAC will provide a public notification and will accept and consider public comment during the period specified in the notification.
- 3. Sponsor will complete an Agreement to Participate with WSAC. The agreement documents a Sponsor's legal commitment to abide by all program statutes, rules, and guidelines. The agreement is designed for yearly renewal. Once the agreement is completed, Sponsors can anticipate working with ANEW to coordinate promotion, apprentice application, verification of eligibility, and awarding and disbursement processes.

INSTRUCTIONS

The WG-A program is administered by the Washington Student Achievement Council (WSAC). Please direct questions to apprenticeship@wsac.wa.gov or 888.535.0747, option 3.

To participate in the WA Grant for Apprenticeship (WG-A) program under RCW 28B.92.200, this application must be completed by registered apprenticeship sponsors, referred to as the "Sponsor." All applying Sponsors must be registered with and approved by the Department of Labor & Industries (L&I) Washington State Apprenticeship & Training Council (WSATC) and cannot be in probationary status.

A current Program Manual is available at https://wsac.wa.gov/FAA-resources. The Program Manual should be consulted to assist in understanding the requirements of Sponsors to administer WG-A.
